A Beautiful Sight.

Thanksgiving day has come and gone and with it many happy hours to many different families. We are glad to note that in this village there were some who did not forget the poor, in their enjoyment and thankfulness over the blessings which had been vouchsafed to them. There was one beautiful sight which came under our observation, which will not soon be forgotten. Quite early in the maing a little girl, apparently not over for seven years of age, the daughter one of our leading citizens, was seen trudging through the snow and storm, hauling after her, her little sleigh, piled full of packages. She stopped at the door of a poor widow, and there left her load. The little child had carried joy

Very well done, for a "doubtful" state. Carry the news to "Don."

The counties of Mackinaw, Chippewa and Schoolcraft had no voice in the election of President this year. The returns for those counties failed to reach the State Board of Canvassers in time, and therefore were not counted. The canvass on the state officers was adjourned a few weeks to see if they would not come in. It seems to us that all three of counties the named might have had their returns in had the county officials been prompt in their duty, and taken a little pains in sending the returns forward.
